Sweet Hour of Prayer

After reading a children's book to my grandchildren, I told them that I was going to read the paper for a while and then after I was done I would read them another one. As I began to read the paper, a few minutes later one of my grandchildren said doubtfully, "Are you reading the paper?" They assumed that since I wasn't reading out loud, I was just looking at the pictures.

Like reading, prayer can be silent. God searches our hearts and minds and hears every prayer, even the ones that never escape our lips. His all knowing nature makes it possible for to pray with full confidence that He will hear and answer our prayers.

Take some time each day for a sweet hour of prayer. To continually praise God; ask Him for help; and thank for the blessings we have received: even when no one else can hear us!

Together through prayer and service,
Deacon Mike

INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

When we encounter or even ponder God's magnificence, power, and awesomeness, we easily begin to feel our own smallness and perceived insignificance. After all, who can compete with eternal greatness, seraphim, or the ability to catch great numbers of fish? We unfortunately think that God's presence somehow overrides us, reduces our importance, and only seeks to judge our inadequacies and doubts. Things begin to change a bit when we realize that what we may have seen as overwhelming and frightening is really only unconditional, unmerited love. Love has tremendous majesty and power. When we listen to this power and stop seeing it as threatening or dooming, our fear dissipates and Divine friendship takes root. Remaining close to what we once preferred at a distance, we can journey to places we never thought possible and do things we never thought we could do. Strengthened by Divine friendship and encouraged by its life-giving power, we can say "here I am, send me!" when God asks, "whom shall I send?" Sin and fear no longer are of concern to the one who remains close to God in a bond of trust.
