High Noon

It was high noon, Jesus weary from His long journey, was resting beside Jacob's well. His disciples when into town to buy some food. A woman came out of the town to draw water... and found her Messiah. The story tells us that she quickly went into the city and invited others to come and hear a man who told me everything I ever did. The disciples came back and urged him to eat; He said to them, "My food is to do the will of the One who sent me and to finish His work."

Now I ask you; what work had Jesus been doing? He'd been resting and waiting by the well. I find great encouragement in this story because this tells me that I do not scurry about worrying myself about getting His work done. In this season of life, I can rest and wait for God to bring His work to me.

Sometimes our circumstances can often threaten to overwhelm us. Maybe we feel we aren't doing enough for the Lord. Fear not, whether in your apartment or home, your work cubicle, your prison cell, or your hospital bed can be a 'Jacob's well', a place to rest; a high noon to wait for the Father to bring His work to you. I wonder who He'll bring to you today.

Together through prayer and service,
Deacon Mike

God's Game of Telephone

You've probably played the game of "pass it on" before, maybe years ago on the playground. It's a simple concept: one person whispers something in another person's ear, and it gets repeated person by person throughout the group, until finally the last one to hear the message has to say it out loud. Whatever ends up being said at the end of the game is usually a far cry from the original statement, and everyone has a good laugh.

As individuals, we don't receive news in the same way. Our personalities, our histories, our weaknesses, and our strengths determine how we interact with information we encounter in the world, both good and bad. One person will interpret a compliment positively; someone else will take offense. One person reacts to news of a job promotion with joy, another is disappointed that now they will have less time with their family. The same news can mean completely different things to different people.

But what God gives us is the truth in love, and the truth in love is the same in every place and in every time, for every person of every race. When Christ prayed to the Father that "the love with which you loved me may be in them," he was asking that the magnificent gift that had been imparted to him would also be imparted to us.

Our job is to play a game of pass it on with this gift of love. How do we keep it from becoming warped? Through remaining committed to the word of God, to the sacraments, and to one another.

In this game, we don't change the message. The message changes us. And we have to give it away to keep it.
