Dependence on God's Mercy

Webster's Dictionary defines mercy as "kindness in excess of what might be expected or demanded of fairness." This sounds good, doesn't? I think we all enjoy receiving "kindness in excess." However, God also asks us to show mercy to others. He wants us to purposely be good to people who don't "deserve" it—even people who haven't been good to us.

You may think, well, that's not fair! You're right! Mercy isn't fair, but it's Christ like. And believe it or not, mercy is powerful. The world may see mercy as a weakness—like we're allowing someone to take advantage of us. However, God promises that when we place our trust in Him and choose to love other people like He does, then He will bless our lives abundantly.

Every single one of us has opportunities to show mercy each day...with friends and family, coworkers and even the clerk at the grocery store. If they can see love in your heart, instead of anger and judgment, that shows them "kindness in excess of what might be expected." More importantly, it gives them hard evidence that Christ is working in you!

I believe one of the greatest privileges we have in life is to follow in Jesus' footsteps, and we can do that by being generous in spirit and giving mercy to others whether they deserve it or not.

Deacon Mike

Your Stephen Ministers have been busy planning on ways to bring awareness of both parishes. The

*Stephen
Ministry*

Stephen Ministry logo tells a story—the story of a care receiver's journey from brokenness toward wholeness through the cross of Jesus. It is a journey made possible by "Christ caring for people through people," which is the Stephen Ministry motto. All of us are that broken person at some point in our lives. We all can become whole through the grace of God, often through another caring person.
