Surprise our World

There is a You Tube video of people eating lunch in a food court in a mall. In the midst of their ordinary lives was suddenly interrupted by someone standing up and boldly began singing the "Hallelujah chorus". To the surprise of everyone, another person got up and joined the chorus and another, and another. Soon the food court was filled with people singing the Hallelujah chorus. A local opera company had planted their singers in strategic places so that they could joyfully surprise the lunching shoppers with the glory of God into their everyday lives.

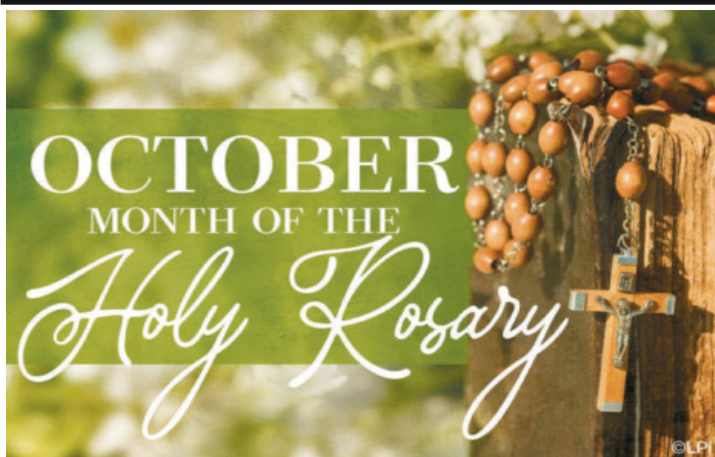

That video reminds me that bringing the glory of God into our everyday situations of our world is exactly what we as Christians are called to do. For example, sharing God's grace into a situation where some undeserving soul needs a second chance; of sharing God's love for those who are needy; of being the hands of God lifting up someone who is weary; or of bringing God's peace to a confusing and chaotic situation.

Thank the Good Lord for giving us the know how to bring God's glory "public" through the way we act and react toward others. May we surprise our world with the wonderful ways of God's saving grace, with each and every encounter.

Deacon Mike
