I will go anywhere provided it's forward.

What does it mean to move forward when life is so full of changes? Sometimes we change jobs, move to new cities, or walk away from something as we reach for something different. Embracing change is not always easy. It is best when the change results from something positive in our lives, such as getting a promotion or buying a new house, but sometimes change means walking away from bad situations or poor choices. How do we let go of the past and move forward successfully?

Moving forward can mean letting go of the comforts of what feels familiar and reaching toward something unknown. We let go of our plans when we experience loss or when things do not work out as we hoped. Sometimes we walk away without fully understanding what's next. No matter what happens, moving forward with God as our center, He will give us the grace to serve Him faithfully today and in the future.

When we move forward with God, we cannot expect everyone to understand our choices, and we cannot make decisions based on whether or not we gain their approval. While it is wise to learn from the past, we shouldn't live in the past. No matter what life brings our way, God wants to help us move forward. He will help us live for Him. He will be with us when it feels like we are starting over, moving on, or making necessary changes. All we have to do is pray.

When life feels like it is crushing us or we don't know which way to go, we need to pray and trust that God will lead us on our journey to become more like Christ.
