Sunday's Readings

First Reading:

And you taught your people, by these deeds, that those who are just must be kind; and you gave your children good ground for hope that you would permit repentance for their sins. (Wis 12:19)

Psalm:

Lord, you are good and forgiving. (Ps 86)

Second Reading:

The Spirit comes to the aid of our weakness; for we do not know how to pray as we ought, but the Spirit himself intercedes with inexpressible groanings. (Rom 8:26)

The Good Old Days

What do you consider to be “the good old days” of your life? Is there a time you would go back to and re-live if you could – changing nothing, but just for the joy of it? But the thing with “the good old days” is that we tend to romanticize them. We conveniently forget the hard parts, the stressful parts, the awful parts. Always assume that you’re living in them now. Because the problem is that we don’t know what we have until it’s gone.

The people of Israel forgot how good God was and they forgot about how evil Egypt was. We all have a tendency to do the same thing when life gets hard. Don’t be the person who forgets the good things that God has done for you because you’re overwhelmed by hard times right now. Don’t be so overwhelmed while you’re in the midst of the desert that you can’t see the Promised Land on the horizon.

That’s why we should try to embrace whatever life stage we’re in and expect that we’ll look back on these “right now” days as the good ones. That means taking stock of the things we’re grateful for now. Let’s relish the moments that we love, whether that’s singing in the shower, digging in the garden, going out with friends, snuggling a newborn, or playing cards with our kids and so on. Let’s put down our phone, silence the distractions, and give ourselves the gift of focus and be in the present.

It is a good reminder for all of us to soak in the little moments, to relish the parts of my every day that I love instead of grumbling about the parts that I don’t.

What about you? What part of your right-now life will you look back on down the road and think “Those were the good old days?”

Deacon Mike

Next weekend we will have a Mission Priest from the Diocese of Same.

The Catholic Diocese of Same (pronounced SAW-may) is in Northeastern Tanzania, in the Kilimanjaro Region. Tanzania is one of the poorest countries in the world, with 80% of the population residing in the rural areas where a subsistence economy is practiced. Tanzania has a population of 57 million people, 15 million of whom live in absolute poverty, earning less than $1.00 a day. One of the serious problems facing the people of Same Diocese is a shortage of clean water, which forces people to drink dirty water from unsafe sources. Traditionally, women and children spend an average of three hours a day collecting water. As a result, the health of the majority of the rural population is at risk. Over 3,000 children under five die each year and 65% of adults suffer from preventable diseases such as cholera, typhoid, and diarrhea.

During the Diocesan strategic plan, shortage of clean water and poor health were identified as the major problems of the rural population, and the decision was made that the Diocese should drill a well in each village of more than two thousand people. Nearby access to clean water gives women and children more time to grow food, earn an income, and go to school. Please give generously to this worthy cause.

St. Patrick Bible Study

Have you ever wanted to unpack the mysteries of the book of Revelations? Revelation: The Kingdom Yet to Come, presented by Jeff Cavins, is an eleven week bible study that will take an intriguing look at one of the most talked-about and possibly the most misunderstood book in scripture. Explore how the kingdom established by Christ in his church is intimately connected with the kingdom of heaven, especially through the celebration of Mass. Learn what all the mysterious figures and images of Revelation represent , as well as what will happen during the Second Coming of Christ, what has already happened, and what is happening now in salvation history. Participants of Revelation will meet every week to view an engaging video presentation followed by a time of lively group discussion and fellowship.

Revelation will be presented in 2 parts. Part 1 September –October: Part 2 January –March. Once again we will have weekly sessions on Sunday and Wednesday: Sundays from Sept. 10-Oct. 22/Jan. 21-Mar. 3 from 10:30am-12:15pm: Wednesdays Sept. 12-Oct. 25/Jan. 24-Mar. 6 from 6:45pm-8:30pm. Please note: If you can attend only one part of this fascinating study, you will be able to access the study online.
